

THE EVANSVILLE JOURNAL.

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED
BY WM. H. CHANDLER & CO.

The Tri-Weekly Journal is published on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, at $4.00 per annum in advance.

The Weekly Journal is published on Thursdays, at $2.00 per annum in advance.

FOR PRESIDENT.

ZACHARY TAYLOR.

WHIG ELECTORAL TICKET.

SENATORIAL ELECTORS.

JOSEPH G. MARSHALL, of Jefferson.

GEOLOVE S. ORTH, of Tippecanoe.

DISTRICT ELECTORS.

1st Dist.—JOHN PITCHER, of Posey.

2d "—JOHN S. DAVIS, of Floyd.

3d "—MILTON GREEN, of Dearborn.

4th "—DAVID P. HOLLOWAY, of Wayne.

5th "—THOMAS D. WALPOLE, of Hancock.

6th "—LOVELL H. ROUSSEAU, of Greene.

7th "—EDWARD W. MCGOWAN, of Park.

8th "—JAMES F. SITT, of Clinton.

9th "—DAVID D. PRATT, of Cass.

10th "—DAVID KILGORE, of Delaware.

CITY OF EVANSVILLE:

THURSDAY, APRIL 13, 1848.

We call attention to the stock of Boots & Shoes advertised by our friend Baker in our paper to-day. As he deals exclusively in the Boot and Shoe business, he is able to offer a more varied assortment than is generally found in dry goods establishments, and his prices we know are remarkably low. Give him a call and satisfy yourselves of the truth of what we say.

See the advertisement of the Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal—for the letting of forty miles of the work—in our paper to-day. A better opportunity to procure a farm was never offered to the poor man, and we have no doubt they will flock to that section by hundreds.

NEW ORLEANS CITY ELECTIONS.—WHIG TRIUMPH.—The New Orleans Municipal Elections which came off on the 31st inst., terminated in the complete triumph of the Whigs. The Whigs elected their Mayor by 2100 majority, and their candidates for Recorders and Councilmen of the 1st and 2d Municipalities, by handsome majorities. In the 3d Municipality there was no opposition to the Locofoco nominations.

THE UNION MAGAZINE OF LITERATURE AND ART.—We have received the April number of this splendid and popular monthly, and were constrained to say that it is got up with more taste than any that have preceded it. Excellent as was the work in every department at the commencement of the year, it improves with every number, and we have no hesitancy in declaring that it is now far in advance of all contemporaries. We cheerfully recommend it to the patronage of our ready readers, every one of whom should possess it.

JOHN DORSEY.—We have received a number of this laughing-magazine, paper, about which the press has had so much to say, and we recommend all those who have the blues to call and take a peep at it, and forthwith subscribe for a copy. Anything is cheap that will raise a laugh these crying times, and if the John Dorsey don't succeed in doing that, there is no use in trying. Laughing-gas is a fool to it. Price $3 pr. annum—4 copies for $10.

WHILE Mr. Allen, of Ohio, was addressing the Senate on Thursday last, a man sprung over the reporter's gallery, jumped on the eagle, which is immediately over the chair of the President of the Senate, and exclaimed in a loud and vociferous tone—"I deny the right of that man to speak for Ohio." The further remarks of the intruder were cut short by the action of the officers of the Senate, who quietly calmed the excited individual by putting him without the bar of the Senate.

The special election held in the Congressional District formerly represented by Hon. John Quincy Adams, resulted in the choice of Horace Mann, who filled the unexpired term of Mr. Adams.

THE OHIO STATESMAN MORTGAGED TO THE WOOSTER BANK.—The "Press," published at Columbus, says that Samuel Medary's paper, the Ohio Statesman, with all its property and patronage, is mortgaged to the Wooster Bank, for $10,000! This affords a practical illustration of bank-baiting democracy.

LATER FROM PALERMO.—ANOTHER REPUBLIC.—By the arrival at New York, on Sunday, of the barque D. Godfrey, Capt. Bearse, from Palermo, the Courier & Enquirer has dates to the 12th of February. Capt. B. states that up to the period of his sailing, the difficulties in Sicily, so far from ceasing, were rather on the increase, and the revolution was gaining greater strength and consequence.

King Ferdinand had made the concessions required of him, but they came too late. The people had imbibed the idea of a republic, and the dispatch containing the announcement of the yielding to their wishes for chartered privileges, was torn to pieces.

The castle at Messina alone, of all the island, remained in possession of Ferdinand's troops, and that was hotly besieged by the citizens, who were receiving succor and arms from Palermo. The whole population of the island were in arms, and two large vessels, loaded with munitions and arms, had left Palermo for Messina, where the munitions were to be distributed among the people.

The nobility favored the people. A meeting was to be held on the 1st inst., to decide upon a form of government, and it was very probable a republican form would be adopted.

A GOOD HIT.—A Poem, called the "Devil's New Walk," in imitation of Coleridge's well known lines, just published in Boston, has the following stanza:

"He went into a mill, where the wheels were still,
And the keys in the hands of the sheriff.
And he sought to think how the operatives
All voted against the devil."

Invectives against marriage are a reversion upon the laws and order of society.

DINNER TO GEN. LANE.—It will be seen by the correspondence given below, that the Committee whose duty it was made to confer with Gen. LANE, and to tender him from his friends and neighbors, a public dinner, as a mark of their esteem and regard, have performed that duty, and that he has named Saturday next as the occasion.

The Committee, we are glad to be able to say, are making arrangements for the accommodation of a large number, and the promptness with which their exertions are seconded by our citizens, render their labors a pleasant duty. We are much mistaken if this does not turn out the largest dinner party ever got up in the county, and one of great good feeling and rejoicing. The following is the correspondence.

EVANSVILLE, April 6th, 1848.
BRIGADIER GEN. JOSEPH LANE.—Dear Sir: The people of the city of Evansville, having learned of your return from Mexico to the bosom of your family and friends, assembled last evening at the Court House, in this city, for the purpose of taking such steps as might be necessary to enable the citizens of this city and county, as well as the surrounding country, to extend to you such a manifestation of their respect for your person and admiration of your distinguished public services, as will be worthy of them and you. At that meeting it was resolved to invite the people of the county and the surrounding country, to join the people of the city in tendering to you a public dinner, as a small, though not inappropriate token of confidence, respect and gratitude, which all your fellow-citizens are anxious to contribute.

And the undersigned were appointed a committee to communicate with you, and inform you of the designs of your fellow-citizens, and ascertain at what time it will suit you to meet your old friends and neighbors for the purpose above indicated. The committee cannot close this note without doing themselves the pleasure of expressing the gratification they feel at being chosen to apprise you of the intentions of their constituents. Will you then, General, be pleased to indicate some early day at which I will suit your convenience to meet us all, and allow us in person to tender to you a suitable expression of our respect and gratitude.

G. B. WALKER, J. M. STOCKWELL, N. ROWLEY, R. JENKINS, C. K. DREW, C. BAKER, Committee.

HOWE, April 7th, 1848.
GENTLEMEN.—I have the pleasure to acknowledge the receipt of your very kind letter, communicating the proceedings of a meeting of the people of the city of Evansville, inviting me to partake of a public dinner, and requesting me to make known at what time it would be convenient to meet my old friends and neighbors at the festive board.

With great pleasure I accept the invitation, and will meet my friends on Sunday, the 15th inst. For the very flattering manner in which you have been pleased to speak of my public services, and the complimentary manner in which you have discharged the duties assigned you, you will accept my thanks.

With great respect, I am gentlemen, your obt. servt., JOSEPH LANE.

Messrs. G. B. Walker, N. Rowley, R. Jenkins, C. Baker, John M. App. John M. Stockwell, and C. K. Drew, Committee.

CAPTURE AND DESTRUCTION OF GUATEMALA BY THE INDIANS.—LATE AND IMPORTANT.—The N. O. Delta, of the 30th ult., translates from the Ven Cruz Aug Iris the following important news:

Capt. Call, of the Irish Scotland, from the Belize (the British settlement in Honduras) announces that the Indians have taken the cities of Guatemala, (the capital of the country) and Escuintla, destroying the beautiful public works of the first named city. Capt. McCall adds that the inhabitants of the Belize were greatly alarmed, as they were momentarily expecting an attack.

The same is said of Comanche.

STRIKING COINCIDENCES.—In 1830, no sooner had the Dey of Algiers arrived in France, as a prisoner of Charles X., than the king was dethroned and exiled, and in 1848, no sooner had the Emir, Abd-el-Kader, reached the shores of France as a prisoner of Louis Philippe, than the King of the barricades was dethroned and exiled. The Dey, at the fall of Charles, exclaimed, "God is just; he has avenged me!" and who would prevent the Marabout, Abd-el-Kader, from making the same assertion of providential retribution?

We find the following instance of heroism in the Paris correspondence of the New York Tribune. It occurred during the last session of the Chamber of Deputies:

"It was the close of the speech of M. Lamartine that the Duchess d'Orleans, seeing that there was no hope for her, turned to withdraw, but this was no longer facile. The Duchess was separated from her children, and the children from each other. A workman broke through the door of the Duchess in his face, and a man in a blouse seized the Comte de Paris by the throat as if to strangle him, but was thrown off by a young National Guardsman, Alfred Mary, who, placing himself between the child and the mob, whose guns were leveled at him—told them to fire if they would, but they must take his life first. Then, hurrying the Comte through a side door, he leaped from the window to the pavement. A friend handed down the child, and Mary ran with him in his arms to the Hotel des Invalides, stripping the earrings which brought the Duchess and her other child to the same place. The heroic conduct of Mary touched the heart of the royal unfortunate, and the Duc de Nemours, taking off from an epaulet, gave it to him as a souvenir of the day, and as a token between them."

CHIEF POSTAGE.—The people of Massachusetts are moving actively in the matter of petitioning Congress in favor of cheap postage. They have their committees and sub-committees, which are getting immense rolls of signatures. We publish their memorial here. They seem to have convinced themselves, that extreme low rates are not to be feared.

PETITION TO CONGRESS FOR CHEAP POSTAGE.
To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, in Congress assembled.
The undersigned, citizens of Massachusetts, respectfully petition Congress to pass a law to establish a uniform rate of postage, not to exceed one cent on Newpapers, and two cents on each pre-paid Letter of half an ounce, for all distances, and as in duty bound will ever pray.

RESIGNATION OF METTERNICH.—PARIS THURSDAY.
The resignation of Prince Metternich is certain, and the circumstances under which it took place are extraordinary. The Prince had declared himself decidedly favorable to concessions in Lombardy, as well as in Bohemia and Hungary. With regard to Lombardy he advised prompt and ample concession. His views met no support, and at the last council at which he assisted, failing to make an impression, he signified that he had arrived at too advanced a period of life to grapple with the difficulties which he foresees would arise from an obstinate persistence in coercive policy. He did not, however, resign formally, at the moment. The same evening the Prince went to the theatre. During the performance some insignificant expression to the effect of "We must rid of these ministers" was caught up by the house, and repeated, all eyes being directed to the venerable statesman, who soon arose much affected, and at once gave effect to his previously expressed intention.

COURT OF INQUIRY.

We are indebted to a friend for a copy of the N. O. Delta, containing the three first days proceedings of the Court of Inquiry into the cases of Scott, Worth, Pillow, and Duncan. The great length of these proceedings, even as condensed by the Louisville papers, alone prevents our giving them in full;—they would occupy our entire sheet, and we cannot spare the room just now.

Gen. Worth declined prosecuting his charges against Gen. Scott, and Gen. Scott declined prosecuting against Gen. Pillow, and Colonel Duncan, but Pillow insisted on a trial, and a trial was consequently accorded to him. We give below the proceedings in this case so far as they have come to hand, and we agree with the Louisville Journal, that the facts present a very strong case indeed against Gen. Pillow, and the testimony of Mr. Freaner seems to implicate him beyond the possibility of vindication. Certainly no one can read the specifications, naming as they do times, places, and witnesses, and then read Mr. Freaner's evidence, without feeling that Gen. Pillow's disfigure is inevitable.

The court after again deliberating, decided to take up the case of Maj. Gen. Pillow, and the commander-in-chief submitted the following charges and specifications.

Charge First.—Violation of a general regulation ordering the order of the army.

[The specification under this charge is that Gen. Pillow wrote and dispatched, or caused to be written and dispatched, the famous "Leonidas letter," glorifying his own conduct in the battles near Mexico.]

Charge Second.—Conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman.

[There are several specifications under this charge. The first relates to the false, ridiculous, and ungentlemanly statements in the Leonidas letter—the second specification is as follows:]

Specification 2.—In this, that the said Maj. Gen. Pillow, being at Mexico, near the capital of Mexico, on or about August 23, 1847, and knowing that Maj. Gen. Scott, commanding general of the United States forces in Mexico had called from the several principal commanders, under, and in direct communication, with him, for the usual reports, to aid him in said Scott, in drawing up his general report of the recent operations of the said forces, in and about the said fields of Contreras and Churubusco, in the valley of Mexico, and the said Scott would not be able to finish and despatch the said general report in many days after the date of August, by reason of the known delays in sending in the said reports, and the said Pillow further knowing, or believing that Jas. L. Freaner, Esq., then at hand, agent and correspondent of the newspaper published in New Orleans, in the United States, called the New Orleans Delta, or the Delta of New Orleans, was in the habit of writing for and expressing to Vera Cruz, in Mexico, with communications to the said newspaper, the said Pillow, in order to anticipate the said intended report of the said commander general, and to forestall public opinion in the United States, through the public press of the same, in his said Pillow's favor—He, the said Pillow, did, on or about the 23d of August, and at Mexico, as aforesaid, write, dictate, or cause to be written, a letter, article, or communication, addressed to the "Editors of the New Orleans Delta," which letter, article or communication, with certain interjections and additions in the proper hand writing of the said Pillow, was, by himself, in person delivered to the said Freaner, for publication in the said newspaper, or to be incorporated in it to be written by the said Freaner, and to be published as published above—which letter, article, or communication, so delivered by the said Pillow, is in the words, figures, and marks, including erasures, and interjections, as follows:

GREAT BATTLE OF MEXICO.
Commented on the 19th, under the command of Maj. Gen. Pillow, leaving a force of 3,500 men. The enemy had 23,000 men, and 5,000 were cavalry, and 27 pieces of artillery.

EN. DELTA: Gen. Pillow's order for the attack was that Gen. Twigg should advance with one brigade of his division, and assault the enemy's strong work in front, while the other should turn his left wing, and assail the work in reverse. He also placed at the disposition of Gen. Twigg, Capt. Magruder's battery, and Lieut. Callender's howitzer battery, (both of which belonged to the proper division of Gen. Pillow.)

The action had now become (with the advancing forces) very severe—and Gen. Pillow, seeing five or six thousand men advancing from the city to reinforce the enemy, who he apprehended would fall upon Gen. Cadwallader's rear, directed Gen. Pierce's brigade, Col. Morgan's regiment (which was yet within reach) and ordered it instantly to the support of Gen. Cadwallader, who, seeing so large a force approaching his rear, threatening to overwhelm him, halted his forward movements, confronted the enemy in a strong position, and held him there till day.

Smith, Col. Riley, and Gen. Pierce were both engaged with the enemy's strong battery and large force of infantry and cavalry, until it was quite dark. Magruder's battery and Callender's howitzer battery were both very much cut to pieces and disabled. Late in the evening Gen. Scott came upon the field, and brought with him Gen. Shields's brigade of volunteers, who he advanced to the support of the forces now under Gen. Cadwallader, but it was too late—they did not get into position until in the night.

The next morning before daylight, the brigade of Gen. Pierce advanced, in execution of the original order of battle; renewed the assault in front, while Riley's brigade supported by Cadwallader, turned his left, assailed the enemy's works in reverse, and gallantly carried it, capturing a large force of the enemy, 22 guns, and killing in the engagement between 600 and 800 of the enemy.

Having achieved this signal and brilliant victory, Gen. Pillow immediately recoiled to pursue the retreating forces of the enemy, and while his troops were flushed with victory, gave battle to a large force (1) still at Santa Angelo, which he did, and drove them before him. He then sent an officer of his staff back to Gen. Scott to say to him, he would cause Gen. Worth to co-operate with him, he would sweep around the valley, and assault the strong works of San Antonio in reverse, and carry that place so as to open the direct route to the capital for the advance of his siege train upon the other battery on that road. Gen. Scott replied that Worth should co-operate with him, and that he would be about to be attacked in the rear, had abandoned the work at San Antonio, and fallen back on a second strong work at Santa Maria. Gen. Scott who was already in command, immediately directed Twigg's division to advance upon the left, and to arrest and cut off all the retreating forces of the enemy, while he ordered Gen. Pillow to lead Cadwallader's brigade to advance and assault the enemy upon the right and in front.

Twigg's division soon became desperately engaged with the enemy at Santa Maria. Pillow's division, in the effort to get to the battle ground, got entangled among some ditches, and was swept deep in mud and water. (2) The general dismounted from his horse, and plunging through, called upon his column to follow him, which they nobly did. He advanced rapidly with it, in front of the enemy's main work, and finding it would be cut down by the terrible fire of grape and canister, which swept down the rear, he turned it into the field on the right, to attack the main battery on its left flank. Here his forces and Gen. Worth's were present all the forward action, gallantly carried this work (3) in conjunction. During the advance upon this work the general himself was knocked by his knees by the concussion of a cannon ball which bruised his head. In the course of the action he shot a Mexican officer and killed him with his pistol.

Twigg's division, having taken, Pillow's and Worth's divisions pursued the enemy until they came under the fire of the enemy's guns from the battery at the very gates of the city. (4)

During the battle in which the first work with 23 pieces of artillery was taken, Santa Angelo was in possession until he got into the city, and put it with other papers. When Leonidas letter was talked of I looked for the paper, and found it. I compared it on being told that it was similar. I then placed the paper, together with the comparison, away. Some friends of mine, however, returned a verbal message from Gen. Pillow, stating that he wanted to see me. I rode out of town and stopped at his house, he (Gen. P.) asked me if I recollected having received a paper from him. I replied that I did. He then asked if it still had in my possession. I told him I had. He then requested that I should return it to him. I replied that I was on my road out of town, and that of my return I would see about it. He said he did not want me to neglect it. In the course of conversation he (Gen. P.) told me he had that (meaning the letter) prepared from an abstract of his report, for me, and that he would send it to me by the next mail. He then said that I was a man of great talents, and that he would be glad to have me to call on him. He then said that he would be glad to have me to call on him. He then said that he would be glad to have me to call on him.

Yours, respectfully,
Which false and scandalous letter, article, or communication, is, as far as it goes, almost an exact duplicate of the printed one signed "Leonidas," the subject of the preceding specification, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the other, or both of those letters, articles or communications, falsely to magnify his, the said Pillow's own generalship, prowess, and valor, at the expense of the other commanders, and to secure for him, the said Pillow, and therein alleged to have been dictated or procured to be written by the said Pillow, in order by one, the